The Cybersecurity Analysis Learning and Certification Program

The new Cybersecurity Analysis Learning and Certification Program is now available. The joint IIBA and IEEE Computer Society's training and certification provides the credibility of a joint certification and the opportunity to learn key cybersecurity concepts and tools business analysis professionals need to demonstrate core competencies.

Why is Cybersecurity Important for Business Analysis Professionals?

The role of business analysis in cybersecurity is becoming more common. According to respondents in IIBA's 2019 Global Business Analysis Salary Survey 21% of business analysis professionals report being involved in their organizations' cybersecurity practice.

Today's business analysis professionals have an obligation to develop basic knowledge and competency in the effective use of cybersecurity tools and approaches to information and process management.
